

City of Grand Prairie Council Member Jacquin Headen Appointed to National League of Cities Human Development Federal Advocacy Committee

GRAND PRAIRIE, TEXAS— Jacquin Headen, District 2 councilmember for Grand Prairie, Texas, has been appointed to serve on the National League of Cities (NLC) 2026 Human Development Federal Advocacy Committee. Headen was elected to serve a one-year term, also remaining to serve with the National Black Caucus of Local Elected Officials (NBC-LEO) and the Women in Municipal Government (WIMG) Constituency Groups. As a member of both constituency groups, Headen will help advance policies and programs within NLC that strengthen and support local communities. The appointment was announced by NLC President Kevin Kramer, councilmember, Louisville, Kentucky.

The Human Development Federal Advocacy Committee leads the NLC's advocacy and policy, across a broad range of social issues, including education, healthcare, and workforce development. NBC-LEO represents the interests of African American local elected officials nationwide, offering a platform to share best practices, develop leadership skills, and address issues affecting their communities. WIMG brings together women local elected officials and their colleagues to foster communication, networking, and the exchange of ideas that support effective municipal leadership.

"I am thrilled to work with councilmember Headen and look forward to supporting her goals and ideas as she serves on the Human Development Federal Advocacy Committee this year," Kramer said. "Helping to strengthen the partnership between local and federal leaders."
