

HITCH CEMETARY

SH 183/County Line

This cemetery was once part of a large farm owned by Kentucky native William Henry Hitch (1818-1893), who brought his family here from Tennessee in 1855. The oldest grave in the cemetery is that of Haden T. Hitch (1846-1858), son of William H. and Esther Hitch. Besides the grave of Hitch family members, the graveyard also contains the burials of relatives in the Trigg, Liggett, and Martin families, all of whom had moved to Texas at the urging of William H. Hitch. The Hitch Cemetery stands as a visible reminder of those early pioneers.

Marker located $\frac{1}{4}$ mile south of SH 183 and $\frac{1}{4}$ mile west of County Line; at dead-end of Kingsport Rd.; $\frac{1}{10}$ mile east of Cambridge Rd. in Ft. Worth (just south of DFW airport).
